THE STEEL AND WIRE TRUST

Has Filed its Papers of Incorporation in Illinois.

EIGHTY-SEVEN MILLION DOLLARS

It is a Cold Day at Malone—Blowing Hard at Colon—Mrs. Luetgert's Golden Opportunity.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Chicago, Jan. 4.— Incorporation papers of the American Steel and Wire Company, capitalized at eighty-seven million dollars, have been submitted to the Secretary of State at Springfield for information. Whether the corporation will state the amount of stock which is to be common and the amount which is to be preferred is not certain. The company will either be incorporated in Illinois or New Jersey. The deal has been closed for several weeks and the basis upon which the plants are to be taken has been agreed upon. Accountants are now verifying the valuation and the vendors get either cash or stock.

A COLD DAY IN THE MORNING.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Malone, N. Y., Jan. 4.—The mercury registered thirty-five degrees below zero at Saranack lake today. This is the lowest temperature of the year.

REWARD FOR MRS. LUETGERT.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Chicago, Jan. 4—Police Inspector Schaack offers twenty thousand dollars reward to any person producing Mrs. Luetgert dead or alive.

BLOWING AT COLON.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 4—A private dispatch from Colon today says that a norther continues to blow furiously there raising a tremendous sea. The shipping business is paralyzed and steamers are seeking shelter at Porto Bello. Much damage has been done to the piers and wharves along the coast line.

A CLOSE CALL.

Lindsay Thomas Badly Injured by a Horse Falling on Him.

This afternoon about 1:30 Lindsay Thomas attempted to ride an unruly horse at Vanstory's livery stable. He succeeded in saddling and mounting the animal when it made a plunge and reared up, throwing Thomas and falling over backward upon him. The man's head fell in the gutter close by the curb stone and this probably saved his life, as in falling the horse struck partly on the sidewalk.

The man, however, is very seriously hurt. The horse is a very large and heavy one and most of his weight rested across Lindsay's breast.

Dr. Turner was hastily summoned and administered to the suffering of the unfortunate man.

At the present writing it is thought he will get well, though it is hard to tell just what his injuries are. The doctor thinks there are no bones broken, however.

Thomas is a colored man and lives in Thomasville, and was preparing to start home when the accident occurred.

OPPOSED BY TRAVELING MEN.

National League Preparing to Fight Anti-Scalping Bill.

New York, Jan. 3.—The Commercial Advertiser says: P. E. Dowe, president of the Commercial Travelers' National League, said today that this organization is prepared on the reconvening of Congress to vigorously oppose the anti-scalping bill now before that body.

Mr. Dowe disclaims any connection between his organization and the scalpers, saying that the league will not oppose any legislation directed against the business of scalping. Neither the word "scalper" nor "broker" occurs in any of the bills passed by the legislatures of ten states, or in the bill pending before Congress. He thinks the bill, if passed, will be a prelude to a general advance in passenger rates all over the country.

Proceeding Slowly.

The case of L. L. Hendren, guardian, vs. Alspaugh et als., which consumed yesterday afternoon, was continued today. The amount in controversy is about $2,000.

NOTES FROM HIGH POINT.

The Local News from Our Neighbor Briefly Told.

TELEGRAM BUREAU, HIGH POINT, N. C., Jan. 4, '98.

Mrs. J. O. Walker, of Randleman, came up yesterday evening to visit her parents, Rev. and Mrs. J. R. Scroggs.

Miss Lena Freeman, of Archdale, passed through, en route to Guilford College.

We regret to learn that the son of Postmaster Clark is very sick.

Clyde Capel and sister, Miss Blanch of Troy, were in the city last night.

James Scroggs, one of High Point's most popular young men, who spent his holidays at home, returned to Trinity this morning.

Mr. and Mrs. M. J. Baling, of Biscoa, who have been visiting the family of J. S. Sechrest, returned home yesterday.

A. V. Sapp and daughter left this morning for Greensboro.

Nelson King, of Greensboro, is spending the day in the city.

Depot Agent Ernest Wiles, of Randleman, who has been visiting his parents in Winston, returned this morning.

E. P. Wharton, of the Southern Stock Mutual Insurance company of Greensboro, is in the city today on business.

J. S. Sechrest left this morning for Greensboro.

Messrs. A. H. Millis and Clyde Capel left this morning for Horner's Military School at Oxford.

J. W. Edmonson's fine horse died this morning. It was taken from the stable last night and replaced about 4 o'clock by unknown parties. It is thought to have been poisoned.

Miss Mina Alexander returned to Greensboro Female College this morning.

Miss Bertha Tomlinson, teacher in Durham's Graded schools, who spent the holidays here, has returned to her duty.

Harvey Davis returned yesterday to the University.

"WE TOLD YOU SO."

It is Practically Settled and Work Will Begin Soon.

What is practically settled? Why the fact that Greensboro will soon have a new and commodious passenger depot. There is no longer any mistake or doubt about the matter.

There have been many rumors, and some good guessing has been indulged in, but the facts have been kept a secret as far as possible. The Telegram, however, got wind of the movement, and contented itself with the knowledge that very soon the old and inadequate depot would be a dream, as it were, of the past, and that people coming into Greensboro over the Southern railway, would alight from the cars into a depot and reception room in keeping with our progressive city.

If you don't believe this story now, just wait. We predict that ere long there will be a movement about the depot that will make the heart of Greensboro glad. We give it as our opinion that the old freight Warehouse will be torn down to make room for a handsome depot and the tracks will be shifted to the southside of the present building. The street between Cleggs and the railroad will be widened to make room for carriages and the hotel conveyances.

And so we might go on telling you what we predict will be done, and you might not believe it. The Telegram believes that these things will be done soon. Then, when all this is being done we can point to the business and say

☞ We told you so.

Made a Home Run.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Brooklyn, Jan. 4—Charles Byrne, the baseball magnate and president of the Brooklyn baseball club died today at his home on West Eleventh street. He has been suffering for sometime with a complication of diseases.

Will Watch Reforms.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Washington, Jan. 4.—President McKinley will send Joseph P. Smith, director of the Bureau of American Republics, to Cuba to watch the effect of Blanco's reforms.

WILL THEY HANG ELI SHAW?

Sensational Developments in Today's Trial.

THE JURY WAS FOUND PACKED.

The trial Was Indefinitely Postponed Hanna Says there is Plenty Time. No More Victims

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Camden, N. J., Jan. 4—The trial of Eli Shaw for the murder of his mother and grandmother stopped abruptly and sensationally today. Each side threw out hints of sensational developments exposing a deep laid conspiracy in the trial. A mistrial was declared because one of the jurors was found to be a member of Shaw's lodge of the Junior Order of United American Mechanics. The lodge adopted resolutions pledging support to Shaw. Nelson W. Cox the twelfth juror was the member.

Many women are present and the case is very similar to the Thorn trial. Some say that juror Cox will be prosecuted for swearing falsely to the questions on examination. The case will possibly be postponed until next April when the court holds its next meeting.

NO MORE VICTIMS.

By wire to THE TELEGRAM.

London, Ont. Jan. 4—No more victims of the collapse of the floor of the city hall last night were found this morning by the searchers in the ruins today. Thus far twenty-four bodies have been recovered from the ruins and identified.

HANNA SAYS.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

Columbus, O. Jan. 4—Hanna says: "The legislature has been organized against us but there is still a week before the election of Senator. The enemy is now in the open and we do not despair of ultimate victory."

BEN BUTTERWORTH ILL.

Commissioner of Patents in a Dangerous Condition.

Atlanta, Jan. 3.—A special to the Constitution from Thomasville, Ga., says: Commissioner of Patents Benjamin Butterworth, is very seriously ill at the Piney Woods Hotel, in this city and grave fears are felt for his recovery. He is suffering from kidney troubles and was attacked suddenly today, with uremic convulsions. Dr. McIntosh, who is attending him, pronounces his condition tonight as extremely grave. His daughter, Mrs. Howe, is with him.

Commissioner Butterworth came here some weeks ago to recuperate from an attack of pneumonia, and until today was steadily improving. He was at the theatre Friday night, and had been out walking or driving almost every day since he has been here. His sudden prostration was a painful surprise to those who know him here.

NO BETTER THIS MORNING.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Thomasville. Jan. 4—Patent commissioner Butterworth is suffering seriously today. His daughter Mrs. Howe is still with him. The attending physicians pronounces his condition extremely grave.

THIS NEGRO SAW A SNAKE.

And He Was the Genuine Article Too and a Boa-Constrictor.

Columbia, S. C., Jan. 3—Last summer a traveling side-showman announced that an 18-foot boa-constrictor had escaped into the cellar of a building in Columbia's business centre. As the reptile was not found, little credence was given to the story. This morning a negro porter of the Loan and Exchange Bank saw something like a log by the furnace, when he went to fire up. He was almost paralyzed with fear when it moved, but managed to escape into the upper regions.

It was the lost boa. Later several newspaper men, with a sponge saturated with chloroform at the end of pole, put the huge snake to sleep, and it was captured.

HUNTING FOR GOLD.

The Treasvre Belonged to Indians. White Men After It.

Maryvill, Mo., Jan. 3—Northwest Missouri is much interested in a search for gold, which has been secretly in progess for three months, near Clearmont.

Dave, John and Bill Bains, brothers, who live near the Iowa-Missouri line, declare that on a small strip of land north of Clearmont, is a buried treasure of gold.

Alexander Gray, a harness maker, owns the tract. The Bains boys assert that the secret was disclosed to them by some Indians of the Sac and Fox tribe, who made a search for the gold years ago.

In 1837 congress extended Missouri's boundary line so as to include 6 counties now in northwest Missouri. The Sac and Fox and Iowa Indians owned the land and after much difficulty it was purchased from them. Part of the price was $7,500 in gold, delivered to Chief Cahaqua (Red Fox) at Liberty, Mo. He and his party were set upon and murdered by a band of Omahas. Chief Red Fox died without revealing the hiding place of the money and other treasures.

The Sac and Fox Indians were taken to Kansas and a tradition among them is that the gold was deposited in a hollow log and sunk to the bottom of a small lake near where Clearmont now is.

The Nodaway river has since filled the lake with sand, and its position is doubtful. A stock company of Clearmont business men has been organized to aid the Bains brothers.

ON A BLAZING CAR.

Four Horses Burned to Death and Theatrical Scenery Destroyed.

St. Louis, Jan. 3.—Fire on a Wabash train cremated four horses and destroyed the scenery of a theatrical troupe this morning.

The horses were used in the play "In Old Kentucky," which opened a a week's engagement in Havlin's Theatre here this afternoon. The scenery belonged to the same troupe.

When thirty miles from Kansas City the engine sparks set fire to the baggage car, and Conductor J. W. Canabey signalled the engineer several times to stop.

Fearful of blocking the main track and causing a wreck, the engineer disregarded the signals and ran the train to Flaming, a siding, in Ray county.

The run of twelve miles was made in fifteen minutes, and during that quarter of an hour consternation reigned. All the baggage was burned, and it was only by heroic efforts that the troupe was able to show here today.

Academy of Music Thursday Night.

Pudd'nhead Wilson which comes to the Academy of Music Thursday night is Frank Mayo's dramatization of Mark Twain's famous Missourian idyl. The play deals with the folks of a little Missouri village, to which has come a lawyer named Dave Wilson, who by his quaint sayings and eccentricities has long been looked upon as a simpleton and dubbed Pudd'nhead. He is that kind of a lawyer to whom nobody will trust a case but by his great fad for taking thumb impressions of different persons he is at last able to demonstrate his talents and win the greatest case the region has ever known. The role of Pudd'nhead will be assumed by no less an artist than Mr. Theodore Hamilton one of the best character actors on the stage of today. Mr. Hamilton is said to portray the genial, quizzing, kind-hearted Missourian to the very life, and his sayings and twisting of the proverbs give to Twain's work a new charm. Joseph Jefferson, Jr. son of the elder Jefferson of Rip Van Winkle fame ably supports Mr. Hamilton. The play will be mounted with that same attention to detail that aided much in making its New York run so successful.

The Wood was Loaded.

Ed Roseboro, colored, wife and four children live at 317 West Stonewall street. Sunday night at 9 o'clock the women and the children were sitting by the fire, when suddenly there was a loud explosion, and everything in the fire place was blown into the room, and the woman and children blown out also.

The last stick of wood the woman put on, it turned out to be, was loaded, and the result, when it went off was to injure the woman and her four children.

They were shot in different ways and places, all being painfully hurt. The woman said the wood came from Jim Taylor's wood yard. Taylor denies the charge. He says he did no et any such trap.—Charlotte Observer.

An Incoming Cunarder Reports Stormy Weather and Brings an Unwilling Pilot.

By Wire to THE TELEGRAM.

Syracuse, N. Y. Jan. 4.—Joe Thornton an ex-convict and Joe Foy, professional safe-crackers broke into the Standard Oil Company's office this morning, gagged the night watchman, blew open the safe and rifled it of its contents. They were captured several hours later with the money in their possession.

A WINDY VOYAGE.

By Wire To THE TELEGRAM.

New York, Jan. 4—Cunard liner Aurania arrived today from Queenstown and reported a very stormy voyage. The sea was unusually high and it was impossible to transfer the channel pilot Martin who was compelled to proceed with the steamer to this port.

TUESDAY, JAN. 4, 1898.

You can get the telegraphic news twelve hours earlier in THE TELEGRAM than in any paper that gets into Greensboro, and for four dollars a year less.

How it would simplify matters in Ohio if legislators could use the Australian ballot system.

Mr. Armour's attempt to corner wheat has taught him that he is not the only hog in the pen.

The great benificence of the modern method of warfare is to be found in way in which it fosters linguistics.

The United States now serve the patriotic Spanish statesman as unfailing means of getting into the newspapers.

It would materially clarify the situation at Columbus, O., if the combatants would consent to use smokeless English.

It is possible that New York is hardly less glad to be rid of Mayor Strong than Mayor Strong is to be rid of the responsibilities of office.

Our esteemed morning contemporary the Wilmington Star, always bright and reliable has donned a new dress of type. May it twinkle always.

The bulletin habit became so fixed with General Weyler during his holiday in Cuba that he has acquired a newspaper since his return to Spain.

In view of the determined opposition his fellow townsmen and countymen are making to him Mr. Hanna will doubtless be led to consider himself a prophet.

The yellow Journal of New York in saying the walls of Asheville Vanderbilt's castle were cracked probably confused that opulent gentleman's castle and his cranium.

The country will wait with grave apprehension for the report of the havoc wrought by the United States warships at the China station when they shall have started on their overland journey.

Mr. McKinley has made many mistakes since his induction into office, but none more grave than when he tied the fortunes of his administration to Mr. Hanna's race for senator. The use of postoffice detectives to shadow opponents and the dispatching of Assistant Secretary of State Day to Canton to attempt to coerce legislators into supporting Mr. Hanna, will not tend to popularize the present administration. Even gratitude has limits to its obligations, and Mr. McKinley has transcended them.

Senator Butler says it has not yet been decided whether there will be "co-operation" between the populists and republicans or not. Which being interpreted means that the exact terms of the bargain have not been agreed upon. The senator is getting high-falutin since his trip to Washington—he says co-operation. "Fusion" grates on the senator's sensitive ears. It may be, too, that certain ghosts, unbidden, rise at the use of the term. Can it be that anywhere in Mr. Butler's vacuous interior there lingers a small remnant of political conscience, a belated weakness for political decency?

The Telegram extends condolences to the Wilkesboro Hustler in its misfortune as published in our special of yesterday, and hopes that it may rise from the ashes speedily.

The elegant grace with which charges of bribery come from that sound statesman and peerless patriot, Mr. Marcus A. Hanna, of Cuyahoga county, falls short of the sublime by only one step.

It may be true that a man with no brains can run the Agricultural commissioner's office but signs are not wanting that John R. Smith is blessed with just enough to spoil the automatic action of the thing.

A FEW ADDITIONAL SECTIONS.

The report of the monetary commission on currency reform and saving the country generally, has once more demonstrated that if the country is to be saved it will have to save itself. We are given column on column of campaign tommy-rot, mixed in an inextricable pot-pourri, with talk about "nine-tenths fine," a practical system of double entry bookkeeping, et cetera.

In all, there are thirty distinct recommendations, and many of the thirty are sub-divided into a, b, c, d and so on to the middle of the alphabet. It looks for all the world like a controversial sermon of a Scotch minister in the seventeenth century. If the "practical business men" on the commission who are supposed to be the sole and only repositories of financial wisdom had only appended to the "plan" a disquisition on the proper amount of coloring matter for oleomargerine, section 37, a to p, on the most felicitous way of rehabilitating an egg that shows symptons of going into a decline or of working off hand-me-downs that have reposed too long on the shelves this "report" would have gone off in a fitting finale of glory and American statesmanship could have reposed on its oars and basked in the shade of laurels fresh as the interior of a cabbage.

PRINCESS BEATRICE'S BOOK.

Her Devotional Work, Written in German Will be Published.

London, Jan. 3.—It was recently announced that Princess Beatrice, youngest daughter of the Queen and widow of Prince Henry of Battenberg, was writing a devotional book dealing with widows' mourning.

The book will be published today at Darmstadt. It is written in German and will contain a preface by the Rev. Mr. Vogel, a German clergyman, who says that he was requested to revise the work, but that he left unchanged many sentences which were not quiet German, fearing to efface their originality.

The Daily News publishes long extracts from the book, but does not mention its mode of publication.

As Senator Stewart Sees It.

Denver, Col., January 3.—Senator Stewart of Nevada is in Denver today and will resume his journey to Washington this evening. "The Rothschild syndicate," said he, "is about to divide China among the gold-standard nations of Europe. All the nations of Asia are to be reduced to financial slavery. The next movement will be to divide South America. What will then become of the free institutions of our own country? What then can intervene to support the Monroe doctrine? The money syndicate, which began its work with the downfall of Napoleon, proposes to reduce the world to slavery."

It is said that there will be applications for more dispensaries when the next Legislature meets. The fact that the one at Louisburg has turned in $1,600 and the one at Fayetteville $2,400 as part of the profits of six months' business will spread the dispensary idea, no doubt.

Rev. Dr. Francis Joseph Schneider, a Lutheran, but not pastor of any church, last year married 688 couples, ranging in ages from 16 to 60. There were 20,365 marriages in New York in 1897. Rev. Schneider beat any other New York minister.

Something to Depend On.

Mr. James Jones, of the drug firm of Jones & Son, Cowden, Ill., in speaking of Dr. King's New Discouery, says that last winter his wife was attacked with la grippe, and her case grew so serious that physicians at Cowden and Pana could do nothing for her. It seemed to develop into hasty consumption. Having Dr. King's New Discovery in store, and selling lots of it, he took a bottle home, and to the surprise of all she began to get better from first dose, and half dozen dollar bottles cured her sound and well. Dr. King's New Discovery for consumption, coughs and colds is guaranteed to do this good work. Try it. Free trial bottles at C. E. Holton's drug store.

SHORT WORDS.

They Are the Best When the Thoughts Are Worth While.

A dozen or less newspaper men were collected together, when somebody said something about Rudyard Kipling.

"I notice in the papers," said another, "that he is the best paid writer in the world at present."

"The Pall Mall Gazette people say they paid him $750 a poem for all they printed of his," ventured a third.

"And why not?" put in a fourth. "He is the best writer of English prose or verse now writing. That one line of his, 'A rag and a bone and a hank of hair,' describing a vampire woman, couldn't be stronger, I think."

"Good and strong," commented a fifth, "but Kipling is not the only man who has chosen monosyllables to give emphatic expression to his thought. If you will remember, Pope in his essay on 'Criticism' remarked, 'And ten low words oft creep in one dull line,' and before and after him there were others, who, as he, were scarcely dull and seldom crept. Hymn writers are strong in this. Take Watts in that well known hymn, for instance:

"Are there no foes for me to face?
Must I not stem the flood?
Is this vile world a friend to grace
To help me on to God?

"Shakespeare found one syllabled words good enough for him, and you all know that passage of Young's:

"The bell strikes one. We take no note of time,
Save by its loss, etc.

"Bailey's 'Festus,' that makes its reader feel as if he had 'eaten of the insane root that takes the reason prisoner,' has many examples, and this one you will recall:

"We live in deeds, not years; in thoughts, not breaths.
We should count time by heart throbs. He most lives
Who thinks most, feels the noblest, acts the best.

"And the Bible, the greatest of books, is filled with the short words. Right at the beginning of things we find, 'And God said let there be light, and there was light,' and at the end of things, so to speak, 'For the great day of his wrath is come, and who shall be able to stand?' and still further along, 'And the gates of it shall not be shut at all by day, for there shall be no night there.'

"Oh, Kipling is all right! He knows he has plenty of authority for seeking short words when he wants strong ones."—Washington Star.

A DARKY'S PRIZE MENU.

But His Friends Weren't Betting Against a Sure Thing.

Three negroes not long ago made a bet among themselves that each could name a supper that would be better than the others could name. They put up $1 apiece, and the one that named the dishes that would constitute the best supper should take the $3. They drew straws as to which ones should be the first and the last to make up the menu for the imaginary meal. The first man said he couldn't think of anything better than greens boiled with hog jowl. For side dishes he would take corn bread, souse, black eyed peas, and wash them down with buttermilk. The other two smacked their lips.

"Well, for me," said No. 2, "I'd take fried chicken, hot biscuits, buttered 'n spread over with preserves—'n den, 'n den—let's see—yes, 'n 'simmon beer 'n ginger cakes."

The mouths of the other two spilled water, and it was apparent that they were hungry. It came No. 3's time.

"W'y, youse niggers don't know what's good," said he. "Tell me, fools, what's better 'n possum baked wid sweet 'tatehs scattered all roun it, swimmin in de gravy? Hey? 'N den atter youse done nibbled at de bones tell they ain't no more meat on 'em dere set de water millyon starin you in de face lik'. Hey?" And with that he started to pick up the money.

"You leave dat money alone," the other two yelled in chorus. "We warn't bettin ag'in no sure thing."—Chicago Times-Herald.

Telegraphic Anomalies.

At a recent meeting of the British chamber of commerce in Paris E. J. Hemebryk, one of the vice presidents of the Liverpool chamber of commerce, made an interesting statement and sought the support of the Paris chamber in his endeavors to obtain acceleration in the delivery of telegrams in France. He said that telegraphing from Liverpool he could obtain a reply from his New York house in three minutes, while from his house in Paris it took five hours. There were countries, like Austria, which were even worse, the time for a reply being sometimes as much as six or seven hours. There could be no greater condemnation of the present system than the practice which was commonly followed by Liverpool merchants. When they wanted to obtain a reply quickly from, say Havre, they would telegraph to Havre through their New York office, and they could thus obtain through New York a reply in half an hour which it would take them four or five hours to obtain direct. The blame could not be attached to the English postoffice, for he had ascertained that, as a rule, a telegram handed in at any English office left the United Kingdom within 15 minutes of being handed in.

The Paris chamber agreed to give the subject its most earnest consideration, with a view to taking steps to obtain reform.—Paris Messenger.

Left In the Lurch.

Simultaneously a young Cornish lady had three suitors, representing the church, the army and the navy. The reverend gentleman had a great advantage over his rivals, being always "on the spot." Referring to his rivals in conversation with the lady on one occasion, he made the highly interesting observation that there were "land rats and water rats."

"And cu-rats," retorted the lady.

Needless to say the parson had to look elsewhere for a wife.—London News.

PRESIDENT TRIPLETT SHOT.

The Head of a College for Colored People Fatally Wounded.

Jackson, Miss., Jan. 3.—News has just been received from the Alcorn Agricultural and Medical College for colored people, near Rodney, Miss., that the president of the college, E. Triplett, was shot and fatally wounded last evening at 6 o'clock, as he was on his way to attend prayer meeting. He was shot in the back by an unknown assassin.

For several years there has been a great deal of discord in the college faculty. The trouble has been caused by some members of the faculty who have been trying to remove Mr. Triplett for the purpose of personal aggrandizement, but the State board of education has refused to do so. In the faculty troubles and the bitterness there engendered, it is possible that a clue may be found to the killing. Triplett was universally esteemed by whites and blacks. He was a man of intelligence and good judgment.

UNCONSCIOUS FOR 130 HOURS.

A Greek Candy Maker at Paterson Succumbs to Asphyxiation.

Paterson, N. J., Jan. 3.—Louis Pachollos, a Greek candy maker, who was found almost asphyxiated in the old Passaic Hotel on last Tuesday morning, died at St. Joseph's Hospital last evening. He had been unconscious over 130 hours. Dr. Cyrus Edson of New York and several other experts were here yesterday afternoon in consultation with Dr. Parke of the hospital staff. Their services had been secured by Vice-Consul Ramon Guiteras of New York. Pachollos came to this city about five years ago, but sailed for Greece last March to take part in the war. He returned in September. The burning away of the coupling hose of a gas stove, a cast-iron contrivance which Pachollos had made for himself, permitted the gas to escape, and asphyxiation followed.

Fusion in Halifax.

Col. Olds writes the Charlotte Observer:

Just as was predicted, when the Senator from Halifax and other fusionists were securing the passage of what was declared to be the infamous law allowing cattle to go at large during certain months in Halifax, a stock law county, there is a big tumble impending. People on whose lands the cattle and hogs are foraging are saying they will kill the animals. Then, this will lead to lawsuits and bad blood. A negro in the House from Halifax let the cat out of the bag by saying that the Senator had promised the negroes that their cattle could go at large. There was not the faintest recognition of the rights of land-owners. Congressman Kitchin will test the constitutionality of the measure.

Old People.

Old people who require medicine to regulate the bowels and kidneys will find the true remedy in Electric Bitters. This medicine does not stimulate and contains no whiskey nor other intoxicant, but acts as a tonic and alterative. It acts mildly on the stomach and bowels, adding strength and giving tone to the organs, thereby aiding nature in the performance of the functions. Electric Bitters is an excellent appetizer and aids digestion. Old people find it just exactly what they need. Price fifty cents and $1.00 per bottle at C. E. Holton's drug store.

NOW HE WANTS A BRIDGE.

Matt Hanney Not Satisfied With Damages From The Journal.

In The Telegram yesterday we told our readers of how the Winston Journal was called upon to pay heavy damages to Mr. Matt Hanney, for erroneously connecting him with the shooting of Joe Jackson last week. We suppose the Journal has fixed the matter up as Mr. Hanney returned to his home last night in exuberant spirits. We use the term exuberant spirits, advisedly as it was undoubtedly some kind of spirits which caused the exuberance.

He returned to High Point, as we were about to say, and found the board of aldermen in session. He decided to have some matters in regard to improvements about his premises adjusted and made several attempts to address the board. Finally they decided to hear him and in spirit—ed words he laid before them the necessity of building a bridge across a ravine or gully in front of his house to enable him to get home.

Our informant failed to say whether or not the request was granted. No doubt the matter will be carefully considered by the board.

Fire in Winston.

At three-thirty yesterday evening a fire broke out in a frame building at the corner of Church and Sixth streets, which was used by the city for storing hay and housing a portion of its stock. The latter, with difficulty, were persuaded from the burning building, says the Journal. The fire is supposed to have started from sparks from a passing engine. The city valued the building at $500 and held no insurance thereon.

Engine Broke Down.

The Saturday night's train on the Southern, due at 8:50, came in two hours late, caused by the melting of the soft pin in the engine, thus letting down the water and putting out the fire.

Before the train could be gotten here it became necessary to send an engine from this point to the disabled train, two miles below Kernersville, bringing it here some time after twelve o'clock Sunday morning.—Winston Journal.

Doubtless You have heard the story of the little Old Log Cabin by the stream and of Rosa Lee the loveliest flower that ever bloomed near this humble little home.

While history does not give it as positive that this bag was patterned after the indentical little cabin in the story, still there is a bare possibility that such was the case.

This Cabin Bag is made of heavy cow hide leather, steel frame, leather lined, brass lock and end catches, in Brown or Olive Colored Leather. Sizes 12 to 18 inches.

Price $2.50 to $5.00.

Matthews, Chisholm & Stroud,

Thanks

To our many friends and customers for their liberal patronage of 1897.
